

Report: Reflections on Art About Not Making Art

Art About Not Making Art
My productivity clock reads
	Maybe you' re bad at
	Being an artist
Is it to late to become an	Accountant?	Probably. <small>(Don't want to think about this arts degree HECS debt)</small>
I think about art all the time. I do so much art in my head.	I love art. I care about art.	I love people deeply - and want them to experience art.
	I believe everyone is an artist
	So what am I?

Working in the arts professionally is a difficult and probably stupid career choice at the best of times.

But someone has got to do it, right?

I propose all artists collectively decide to give up.

NO MORE ART. ALL OF US HAVE QUIT.

IT HAS BECOME TOO DIFFICULT AND WE CANNOT BE BOTHERED ANYMORE.

IT WAS A GOOD RIDE, BUT IT IS FINALLY OVER.

DO YOU HAVE ANY ENTRY LEVEL POSITIONS OPEN?

It is a difficult time for most people. The world is changing rapidly.

It is easy to feel stuck. It is easy to be stuck.

Literally stuck at home for months of the year.

Part privilege to be stuck - in a system where the most underpaid workers must put their lives at risk to survive.

But hey! Check out Woolworths stocks though

LOVE AND COMM UNITY

We must work for it every day.

Stuck.....

So much of my life has happened in the same few spaces I visit every day.

Canvases that have been painted over 500 times.

Spaces. Sense Memories. Raw Materials. Sounds.

Becoming aware of the details I have never noticed.

NOW LET'S TALK BUSINESS

A recession is the perfect time to build your career!
